

GeoVISTA Center Internship Application

GeoVISTA is currently considering internship applications from undergraduate students. Typically, internships are attached to one of several ongoing research projects, or something that cuts across existing projects. Most of our internships are "for credit" rather than paid (sometimes students get offered a paid internship after an unpaid one if they become actively involved in an ongoing project that has internship funding).

Internships in GeoVISTA are competitive and whether we have one or more in a particular semester depends on the match between an individual's interests/skills and current projects. Please review and complete this form to apply. Send your completed form by email attachment to Anthony Robinson at arobinson@psu.edu.
